Dangling Participles

In each sentence below, decide if the participial phrase is a dangling participle. If it's correct, write 'correct'. If it is dangling participle, write 'dangling' and rewrite the sentence to correct it.

1. Walking down the street, the bakery smelled wonderful.

_____

2. Exhausted from the long day, John fell asleep on the couch.

_____

3. Covered in snow, the hikers struggled to find their way.

_____

4. While preparing dinner, the fire alarm suddenly went off.

_____

5. Having completed the report, the computer crashed unexpectedly.

_____

6. Eaten by insects, the apple had turned brown.

_____

7. Running late for the meeting, her keys were nowhere to be found.

_____

8. Painted beautifully, the artist admired the landscape on the canvas.

_____

9. Waiting for the bus, the rain started pouring heavily.

_____

10. Forgotten on the train, she was upset about losing her jacket.

_____

11. Filled with excitement, Sarah eagerly awaited the concert.

_____

12. Hearing the news, Mike collapsed and started sobbing.

_____

13. After finishing the project, a long vacation was needed.

_____

14. Lost in the city, the car's GPS system finally helped us.

_____

15. Having been scolded, the child sat quietly in the corner.

_____

Answers

1. Dangling - Walking down the street, I smelled the wonderful aroma of the bakery.

2. Correct

3. Correct

4. Dangling - While preparing dinner, I accidentally triggered the fire alarm.

5. Dangling - Having completed the report, I was surprised when the computer crashed unexpectedly.

6. Correct

7. Dangling - Running late for the meeting, she couldn't find her keys anywhere.

8. Dangling - Painted beautifully, the landscape on the canvas was admired by the artist.

9. Dangling - Waiting for the bus, I noticed the rain starting to pour heavily.

10. Dangling - After forgetting her jacket on the train, she was upset.

11. Correct

12. Correct

13. Dangling - After finishing the project, the team realized they needed a long vacation.

14. Dangling - Lost in the city, we finally used the car's GPS system for help.

15. Correct